The Daily Oregonian

No flag but the Old Flag,—the Red, White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true;
Arise and defend it, ye sons of the true,
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save.

MONDAY MORNING, MAY 11, 1863

Gen. McClellan

The report of the Congressional Committee on the conduct of the war, recently published in the Eastern papers, discloses facts in relation to the course of Gen. McClellan which deeply grieve those who have been anxious to support and preserve their faith in him, and completely justify the Administration in its action towards him. It is apparent, from the fullest proofs, that he failed to improve repeated opportunities to accomplish important and practicable results, and by hesitation and timidity lost favorable chances to win victories, and thus, in all probability, to save the country from the fearful perils and sacrifices that have resulted from his inefficiency. The following remarks from the New York Times—until the last moment, his firmest and most conspicuous defender—show how his former and ardent adherents are forced to regard his conduct. It is a sad conclusion to a career which once promised to be so brilliant and patriotic.

We think the country and the world, in view of the facts stated in this report, sustained as we assume them to be by the evidence accompanying it, must come, however reluctantly, to the conclusion that the failure of this army has been due wholly and exclusively to the incompetency of the Commanding General, and those who do not adopt this explanation must fall back upon one infinitely less to his credit, namely, that General McClellan did not think the country was to be served and the Union saved by crushing the rebel armies, and that he acted upon this conviction, rather than upon his duty and his orders as a military commander. We can see no escape from one of these two conclusions. The attempts made so steadily and perseveringly by his friends to throw the responsibility of his failures upon the Government are utterly futile and absurd. There is not a single instance in which it can be made to appear even plausible for a moment that the Administration has withheld from him any support which he needed and could receive, or that there has been in any quarter or at any time, the slightest disposition to interfere with any of his plans which looked toward a vigorous prosecution of the campaign. On the contrary, we do not believe history shows an instance in which a commanding officer in the field has been so earnestly, so cordially, and so steadily sustained by his Government as was General McClellan during the whole time he was in command of the Army of the Potomac. We are somewhat surprised to find throughout General McClellan's correspondence with the Government constant evidence of a consciousness on his part that he was not doing what was expected at his hands, and that he must shield himself at all hazards from the responsibility of failure—even before they occured. He puts forth one constant, steady call for reinforcements—wherever he is or whatever he has to do, before a victory and after a defeat, at every step on the Peninsula, before he had fought the enemy in Maryland and after he had beaten him at Antietam—without any regard, apparently, to the numbers he already had or to those of the enemy he had to meet. It seems as if he had started with the theory that by such a course he could clear himself of all blame in any event; that in case of defeat he could point to the fact of his incessant calls for more troops as proof of his sagacity, and in case of success he could claim the greater credit for having achieved it with an inferior force. This habit reaches its climax when after the battle of Antietam he asked that Washington might be stripped of troops—even if it should be taken in consequence thereof—to reinforce his army, that he might fortify himself at Harper's Ferry, and repel the rebels if they should attempt to cross into Maryland again!

TELEGRAPH DIFFICULTY AT OREGON CITY.—We have received a letter from Hon. F. A. Collard of Oregon City, containing his explanation of his refusal to allow telegraph poles to be placed on his land, and the trouble thence arising. The letter is too long to publish now, but in justice to Mr. Collard, we will state that he conceived that his rights were infringed, and supposed that the Telegraph Company might be equally accommodated by placing the pole where he requested and where it would not damage him. The agent, he says, refused to do this, and hence the difficulty. We suppose the matter will in due time be properly investigated and we doubt not that Mr. Collard will cheerfully abide by the decision which the Courts may make. As to the amount of bonds required by the Justice, our suggestion was a hasty one, based upon the report which was furnished to us. There is no question of the ability of Mr. C. to give security to any amount, and we do not believe that he or the Agent of the Company will be disposed to act unreasonably or unjustly in the matter towards each other.

FEDERAL COURT.—The District Court of the United States, Hon. M. P. Deady presiding, will be opened this morning, it being the regular term provided by law. By request of the U. S. Attorney, a Grand Jury has been summoned, the members of which are required to be in attendance at ten o'clock to-day. The Court Room is in the third story of Stark's building.

FIRE AT SALEM.—From a private dispatch received by Wasserman & Co. of this city, dated 10 A. M. yesterday, we learn that an extensive fire occurred at Salem that morning. The Union House and all the buildings in that side of the street north to Fish's store were consumed. Mr. Fish's loss was about $500.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, near Falmouth, April 30.—The following congratulatory order was read to the troops with heartfelt satisfaction:

The Commanding General announces to the army that the operations of the last three days have determined that our enemy must either fly or come out from behind their defenses, and give us battle on our ground where certain destruction awaits them. By command of Major General Hooker.

NEW YORK, May 3d.—The following is quoted from the correspondence of the Tribune: The 11th and 12th corps are in possession of Chancellorville, west of Fredericksburg. After crossing the Rappahannock we encountered the enemy and drove them before us and captured a quantity of provisions without any damage to us. Our columns then moved rapidly on until it approached the Rapidan, and when within a mile of it our men were fired on from rifle pits. The rebels fled and were chased on by us, when a sharp skirmish ensued at Louisiana Mills. After a lapse of fifteen minutes the enemy, consisting of 128 men, surrendered. Our loss was one killed. By 10 o'clock the 11th corps had crossed and was encamped and this morning started on the march to Chancellorville. On approaching a wilderness, about five miles on the way, Gen. Slocum's column was fired on by artillery, which resulted harmlessly, and did not check our advance. A message from Gen. Mead informed Slocum that he had occupied Chancellorville, and that he was waiting on him to form a junction. The order was given to advance. Not long afterward the General and staff entered the place. We move toward Fredericksburg to-morrow.

PHILADELPHIA, May 3d.—The following statement is from a gentleman who left the Rappahannock on the 2d, as soon as the rebels learned that our force had crossed above they commenced moving troops out to meet our advance. Trains have been running continually from Richmond and the enemy have all their available force about Fredericksburg.

The latest from Chancellorsville is that Stoneman had cut the railroad. This is stated on the authority of one of the Generals who arrived at Washington on Saturday.

NEW YORK, May 3d.—The army correspondent of the Herald, dated May 1st, states that the rebels had made numerous dashes, driving in our pickets. On the previous afternoon, they opened a heavy fire with shot and shell on our extreme [illegible] but received spirited response from our batteries. The rebels appeared to be concentrating an attack on our left, but we do not regard it as certain.

The steamer George Cromwell, from New Orleans, with dates to April 25th, has arrived. The Captain reports the news received on the morning he sailed, that Banks had taken Alexandria, on the head of Red River.

A letter from Brashear City, dated April 26th, and published in the Era, says a rebel from the Red River country reports that three Union gunboats captured Alexandria several days since. He also reports the occupation of the country. Also that Farragut's blockade of Red River interposed with the supplies of the rebels at Vicksburg and Port Hudson.

The mass of the people were ready to take the oath of allegiance and hundreds had already done so. The country was well supplied and our army was living on the provisions confiscated on the march.

Galveston dates to the 12th ult., represent that the rebels were heavily fortifying the roads running from that city to the fort. A steamer, supposed to be the Harriet Lane, had come down the river to Galveston.

The Bee learns from a passenger by the Columbia from Havana, that Puebla has been occupied by the French, Ortega having been captured. Same Havana dates received make no mention of this report.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The French transport Alice, from Vera Cruz, has arrived. The Captain reports that dispatches were received from Gen. Forney, to the effect that the siege of Puebla was then in progression, and that the French were in possession of half of the city. The Captain also states that the reports of the repulse of the French were entirely without foundation.

NEW YORK, May 4th.—The Times correspondent, dates to May 1st, 10 P. M., states that the second army corps took possession the night previous on the left and the 30th corps reached the front about noon. The positions these corps hold is thus described: We hold the Gordonsville road securely, the country road leading to the Spottsylvania court house and another road four miles in rear of that. The rebel flank is thus dangerously exposed.

A dispatch captured yesterday from Gen. Lee to an engineer, dated April 29th, says he is much surprised at this movement, had not anticipated it, and is not prepared to give instructions.

About noon a movement was made to endeavor to bring out the enemy and compel him to display his strength. Our men entered the field with enthusiasm.

Only one regiment of cavalry first charged on the enemy, they driving ours back repeatedly, when a small force of infantry charged the enemy.

Our forces drove the rebels from two ridges parallel with the Rappahannock river, gaining ground and taking 63 prisoners, when Gen. Hooker ordered them to retire, not wishing to bring on a general engagement.

The rebels mistook our retirement and followed rapidly on the top of the first ridge. They halted a moment, then gave a yell and came down on the double quick, but were met by Sykes' division, who poured in a terrible fire of artillery at short range. The contest lasted three quarters of an hour. We had 22 [illegible] our guns shelling the woods effectually. The rebels made several attempts on our lines but were repulsed and fled. At six P. M. they made a desperate attempt to capture our batteries commanding the plank road to Fredericksburg, but were handsomely repulsed by [illegible], assisted by Knapp's and Hampton's batteries, which shotted their guns with grape and canister. During the night our men and the rebels threw up earthworks, and a battle on Saturday would surely [illegible].

The Tribune has issued an extra with the following news by [illegible] the Rappahannock, with dates to Saturday morning, May 2d: At 8 P. M. our forces were in possession of Fredericksburg, and the first line of redoubts on the hill beyond, and was feeling its way to the second. The river was crossed and the rebels retreated with slight loss of life. The rebels marched away in the front of Chancellorsville to attack our right wing. A great portion of our Falmouth batteries were engaged on Sunday with rebel batteries firing across the river and over the city. [illegible] musketry and cannon, was very heavy. The enemy had been forced to fight on ground of Hooker's own choosing, as he promised his soldiers. It was believed by [illegible] that Stone's expedition [illegible] railroad communication between [illegible] Richmond had been successful. [illegible] Hooker of success that [illegible] with his orders a force had already commenced to rebuild the bridge over the Rappahannock. The troops are in fine spirits.

NEW YORK, May 4.—The Herald has an extra giving news [illegible] A. M. Sunday, May 3d. It states that the rebel stronghold near Fredericksburg and Stonewall [illegible] had been [illegible] gives rumors that our regiments had captured 15 pieces of artillery, and that at the same [illegible] captured three rebel batteries; that our cavalry were tearing up the railroad track and destroying property, and were still driving the enemy with great slaughter.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., May 2.—The Capt. of the brig [illegible] from San Domingo, April 28th, reports the capture of the pirate Retribution by a U. S. vessel. The Captain saw the [illegible] himself.

NEW YORK, May 1.—Various rumors are afloat to the effect that Hooker's right wing suffered severely on Sunday. Considerable credence has been gained from several sources.

It is stated that the President has received dispatches from Hooker to the effect that he has severed the rebel communication between Bowling Green and Hanover Court House, and that Gen. Slocum captured 1,500 prisoners; that our communications with Stoneman had been cut off by guerrillas, but would soon be restored, and that Hooker hopes to capture the rebels north of the Pamunky.

A schooner from Port Royal reports that she was boarded off Morrill's Inlet by a boat from the Wabash, which reported that Lieut. Braine entered that Inlet and destroyed 2 large warehouses filled with cotton, and also two large schooners with cargoes of boots and shoes for rebel use.

NEW YORK, May 4th.—The Times prints the following, dated from two miles below Fredericksburg, Sunday Morning: Bartlett's brigade of Newton's division, consisting of the 121st and 16th New York, 12th and 5th Maine, and 9th Penn., are charging on the rebel battery in front of the Burnell House. It has annoyed us considerably.

Fredericksburg is occupied by the troops of Corcoran's and Gloss brigade and the troops of Newton's division. At 9 A. M., and after a temporary lull, musketry firing has commenced. We are losing some men. The artillery on both sides has opened and we are [illegible] rapidly. Our troops are well protected behind the right of the Richmond road.

9 A. M.—Our batteries have [illegible] good position and are firing better [illegible].

A pontoon bridge has been thrown across the river at Fredericksburg, and men are passing to and fro.

NEW YORK, May 4th.—Gold closed at 47; Sterling, 16.

HOW GEN. HOOKER TALKED TO A CAVALRY BRIGADIER.—A correspondent, writing from the Army of the Potomac, says:

Gen. Hooker, so far, has shown himself to be a great chieftain, in the true sense of the term. He has done his utmost to bring up the spirit of the army, and his labor has been rewarded with the most gratifying success. The recent brilliant affair at Kelly's Ford, where our cavalry rushed upon the foe without firing a shot, and sabred the rebels in their entrenchments, is but one indication of the great change he has wrought. The utter worthlessness of our cavalry had long been the standing reproach of this army. "Who ever saw a dead cavalryman?" was the derisive interrogatory from every branch of the service. General Hooker resolved this should cease. He told his Chief of Cavalry he would have no more disgraceful surprises. Said he to a Brigadier of Cavalry, "I know the South and I know the North. In point of skill, of intelligence, and pluck, the rebels will not compare with our men, if they were equally well led. Our soldiers are a better quality of men. They are better fed, better clothed, better armed, and infinitely better mounted, for the rebels are fully half mounted on mules, and their animals get but two rations of forage per week, while ours get seven. Now with such soldiers, and with such a cause as we have behind them—the best cause, the most sacred cause since the world began—we ought to be invincible, and by —, sir, we shall be! You have got to stop these disgraceful cavalry 'surprises.' I'll have no more of them! I give you full power over your officers to arrest, cashier, shoot, whatever you will—only you will stop these surprises. And, by —, sir, if you don't, I give you fair notice—I will relieve the whole of you and take command of the cavalry myself." This is the kind of talk to [illegible] delinquent officers, and the first fruits thereof may be read in the flash and ring of gallant sabres at Kelly's Ford. It is the kind of talk to reform an army and to win battles, and to save a nation, and history will record every word in letters of gold.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

Fire Alarm.—The "fire boys" were called away from their Sunday-morning toilet, yesterday, about 2 o'clock, by the clanging of the alarm bells, and to one not particularly interested in the affair, the sight presented was rather amusing than otherwise. Some (not many) appeared all neatly dressed in their "Sunday-go-to-meeting-clothes," faultless bosomed shirts, standing collars, slick beavers, and well-blacked boots; others not quite so industrious, appeared in part only towards the completion of their morning dress, some had but just doned their linen, others had just doffed theirs; some had neither hat, coat or boots on, (don't bluss, ladies, they all had their pants on,) while a few came running with their razor-strops and blacking-brushes in their hands, having but half completed the job. However, their was a pretty general turn-out, and a grand dash made for the scene of disaster, which proved to be only a big smoke caused by the overturning of a kettle of hot pitch on the deck of a small craft lying at the upper end of the harbor. In less than 15 minutes the alarm was all over, the machines all houses again, and the boys back to their several occupations, brushing, shaving, shirting, &c., &c., and quiet once more reigned supreme. Another evidence of the alertness of our fire department.

Survey of Railroad Route.—Mr. S. G. Elliot left this city on Saturday morning last, for Marysville, at which place he is to immediately commence the survey of the railroad route to this city. We have not yet ascertained the amount donated by our citizens in aid of the project, but doubt a fair proportion will be eventually raised.

A Good Appointment.—We are glad to learn that Gov. Gibbs has appointed Philip C. Schuler, jr., of this city, as Assistant Adjutant General of the Oregon Militia. Hereafter he will be hailed as Major,—till—he receives promotion.

Due.—The steamer Sierra Nevada is now due and may be expected to arrive here, from San Francisco on the evening of the 7th inst., early this morning.

To Deserters.—General Orders No. 11, published in to-day's paper, extends the time when deserters from the army may return to duty without punishment until the 1st of June next. Fall in, men.

Fourth Page.—An excellent letter from Daniel S. Dickinson will be found on the fourth page; let all read it.

Benefit of Mr. J. P. Denison.—To-night is announced as the last night of the theatrical season, upon which occasion Mr. J. P. Denison, the energetic manager of the excellent troupe of tragedians who have been delighting large audiences of our people with their beautiful, chaste and superior dramatic plays, will take a complimentary benefit, tendered to him by a number of our influential citizens who have witnessed the performances of this troupe and desire thus to show their appreciation of its merits and encourage the manager, who has been at great expense in the engagement of such a superior company for the intellectual entertainment and agreeable amusement of a large class of our citizens. We desire to see Mr. Denison receive the largest benefit ever given in our city, because he has introduced the best theatrical company ever before seen on the stage in this city, and all who can appreciate or take pleasure in such things, should feel it their special duty to encourage the introduction of genuine, intelligent and respectable tragedians, and to elevate the character and tone of our theatrical entertainments, rather than that they should fall and continue in low, disreputable reveries and "melodeon vulgarities." Mr. Denison is well known to our citizens and has more than one claim upon their favor in this matter, one of which we may well call [illegible] just now, to-wit: the generous and patriotic donation of a benefit by him, by which more than $400 were added to Oregon's credit on the books and in the hearts of the Sanitary Commission and those that were relieved by this act of kindness. Now is a good time to show our appreciation of such patriotic deeds.

As a further attraction for this benefit, two new and thrilling dramas, will be played,—the first, entitled "Judith, or The Traitor's Doom," and the second, "The White Boys of '76." These plays are entirely of a new and different order to most of the plays of the present day, and having never seen them ourself, we cannot say what particular attraction they possess, further than from the unusual complimentary notices of them by the New York press, in which city they seem to have but recently appeared, we are inclined to the opinion that they must indeed be beautiful plays. We know they will prove entertaining, for Miss Edith Mitchell and Mr. Waldron are to take the leading characters in both.—See programme in another column.

Head-Quarters District of Oregon,
Fort Vancouver, W. T., April 23d, 1863.

General Orders, No. 11.

By authority received from the Headquarters of the Pacific, all deserters who will surrender themselves at any military post or to any recruiting officer before the 1st June, 1863, will receive the privileges granted them under the Act of 3d March, 1863, and the Proclamation of the President of the 10th March. They will be restored to duty without punishment, except the forfeiture of pay and allowances during their absence.

By order of Brig. General Alvord,
FREDERICK MEARS,
1st Lieut. 9th Inf., U. S. A.,
Act'g Asst. Adjt. General.

SPECIAL ATTENTION is respectfully directed to our exclusive manufacture of the renowned GOLDEN BALSAM, a preparation compounded by the celebrated Dr. Le Richat, of Paris, and which we pledge our integrity to be a speedy and efficacious remedy for Syphilis, in all its stages. For obvious reasons, we cannot obtain for publicity testimonials as to its efficacy: but among the innumerable cases in which it has been administered, we have never known one instance of its failure. The celebrity this medicine has acquired is of itself a sufficient guarantee of its intrinsic merit, and that it is in reality a boon to suffering humanity."

FAMILY
SEWING MACHINES

Are unsurpassed by any for beauty, simplicity of construction and efficiency in working, and will do

IN A PERFECT MANNER,

A greater range of work than any other machine.

The value of a Sewing Machine cannot be estimated by the amount of wood, iron, brass or steel used in its construction, but by the manner in which these materials are put together, and the quantity and quality of the work it turns out. You can buy a watch or a piano-forte for very little money; but if you want either for your own use, you wish an article which can be relied upon, and you will purchase accordingly.

LADD & WEBSTER'S

use a straight needle; curved ones are liable to break.

They make a tight lock-stitch, alike on both sides of the work, which cannot be ravelled.

Every machine is sent from our office threaded, and with work under the needle ready for operation, accompanied with such explicit printed instructions as will enable persons who may never have seen a machine to teach themselves.

DR. BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oil and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases: If they are not satisfied with its healing properties, the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally, morning, noon and night; it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea, to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhœa, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely, and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe the gum at the same time; it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe the parts affected morning and night; at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut, or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea, it will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.

Superb Letter from Daniel S Dickinson

The following letter from that old fashioned democrat, D S Dickinson, of New York, was addressed to the Toledo (Ohio) Union meeting

ALBANY, March 12th 1863

Gentlemen I wish I could respond to your generous invitation of the 5th inst by attending your meeting on the 18th in person, but I shall be unable to do so, and can only send you my acknowledgements and the assurance of my sympathy in this hasty note

Of all human problems the one to me most difficult of solution is, how a loyal mind out side a penitentiary or mad house, can in any manner, under any pretense to any extent, or for any purpose aid, assist countenance wink at, or apologize for, the black and murderous conspiracy and rebellion which is engaged in attempting to destroy our holy hope—the Union

Our brave soldiers who are engaged in this struggle, ten fold more important than that which was waged for American Independence, deserve, and should receive the love and thanks of every man and woman, and be cheered by the united voices of a whole people, regardless of age sex, condition or political designation or opinion But we must blush to own that the rebellion they are resisting in battles of blood upon the field, dying amid the malaria of marshes, and enduring the privations of the camp to crush, is justified, stimulated and encouraged by politicians at home, and that, too, in the sacred name of democracy

O, democracy! democracy! How many abominations are practiced in thy name Thomas Jefferson was a democrat, for he evolved the sublime theory of man's equality! Andrew Jackson was a democrat, for he waged a war of extermination upon monopoly and privilege and strangled the first serpent of secession by bold and intrepid measures, and by the startling enunciation that "The Union must and shall be preserved" Both these great lights remained faithful to the creed they cherished—they went to their rewards full of honors, and, like the setting sun, seemed greatest as they sank to rest They fought the good fight—they finished their course, they kept the faith. But, if Jefferson had finally changed his theories of man's equality to the advocacy of a government based upon the foundations of perpetual negro slavery; and if Jackson had sought the destruction of the Union by armed rebellion, or had justified or apologized for those who did so, they would have better represented demonology than democracy, and their memories would have been scorned and execrated instead of being embalmed in a grateful nation's heart. Judas, so renowned in sacred history, breaks upon us as a disciple and follower of his meek and lowly master. but he was so no longer when he became copperheaded and copperhearted, and betrayed his Lord to the confederate priests. Benedict Arnold was the proud associate of Washington, in the early history of the Revolution, and his name was upon every tongue for military skill and intrepid daring. In an evil moment, like modern Arnolds, he became "dissatisfied with the prosecution of the war, and the administration of the Government," seceded from his high estate, and was a Revolutionary patriot no longer, but—

"Left a traitor's name to other times,
Linked with one virtue and a thousand crimes

More manly, however, than his copyists of our day, this illustrious wretch did not content himself with apologizing for and justifying those who robbed, and pillaged, and murdered his countrymen, but he entered the service to which he had sold his polluted being, and was first and foremost in the work of havoc and destruction with his blood red hand. And yet, Judas should pass for a worthy disciple, and Arnold for a distinguished patriot, with those who believe it is good citizenship and true democracy to resist or embarrass the Government in its efforts to crush the rebellion which seeks our destruction as a nation.

I am an old fashioned and adhering democrat, and believe in its sublime creed to day as I have through a long and somewhat eventful life. But democracy, like coin, may be counterfeit, and in proportion as the true is valuable, the spurious is vile and worthless I believe, too, that no party, as such, can or should attempt to conquer the rebellion, but that all can and should act together in the grand accomplishment. I by no means include in my sweeping and censorious designation, the great rank and file of the democracy, whom I know to be true to the Union who have been misled by self-constituted and fussy leaders, by appeals to their partisan pride and prejudices, and creeds and traditions for such are as mistaken as they are honest, in clinging to their partisan standards, and attempting to run the political car in the old ruts and grooves worn in time of mere party conflict, as though this intestine war were a bloodless canvass for the Presidency, and to be disposed of by platforms and regulated by resolutions. But the self-elected leaders, those who invoke partisan strife, who direct the partisan machinery, and would jeopard and divide our Union, if not madly destroy the best free Government on earth, for the gratification of malignant feelings and unworthy aspirations, they have my permission to take the highest niche in the temple of infamy, to which a world's opinion has universally assigned them for their baseness, for to day they are the mainsprings of this murderous rebellion, by promoting strife at home, and they give it its chief aliment and hope and endurance They have been, by a common consent, designated as copperheads, and no name could be more appropriate Strutting under their borrowed plumes, and vain conceits, claiming officiously to speak for democracy, to whose creed they seem strangers, they boast of the many respectable names the democratic party has in other days been able to carry away triumphantly, and declare their ability to render this one reputable and popular. But they forget that it was that democratic party which professed and practiced the principles of Jefferson and Jackson, which was thus successful That it was not incumbered by treasonable leaders of the whole or half blood, that it did not attempt to uphold conspiracy and rebellion against the Government, and that so long only as its doctrines were popular and acceptable, could it laugh at reproachful names The true democratic party might at any time have withstood successfully the mere designation of copperhead, but it has never seen the day and God grant that it never may, when it could endure such leaders as these, and carry over the bleeding fragments of a murdered crucified and dissevered Union, both a brazen head and a copper heart.

An ancient fable tells us of a serpent—it was, doubtless, a copperhead, which gave up the lead to the tail instead of the head that in attempting to crawl through a wall it was stuck and remained there, indulging in mutiny, too willful to recede and unable to progress because of changing to the front its tapering tail, and such seems now to be the position of the party which now bears a serpent's name, and is executing a serpent's mission The miserable accomplice of rebellion—its chief hope—its malign and mischievous co-worker and supporter, has already had its day, and indications are abundant that it is to be abandoned to its fate, by those it has, by its snaky influences, betrayed into so grave an error as to apologize for treason and murder in this [illegible] The Te Deums so recently [illegible] to rebel [illegible] singers of secession [illegible] within the compass of their [illegible] and they are evidently about to [illegible] as well as music [illegible] Touch thus As spring opens we shall see many who have [illegible] copperheads, crawling quietly out of their [illegible] snake skins and taking sides with the loyal masses in crushing [illegible] the rebellion [illegible] then, [illegible] unfaltering purpose, and [illegible] the seal of the [illegible] to sever the head of this [illegible] serpent rebellion that [illegible] Eden and thus preserve our cherished Union for all [illegible]

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters, (purely vegetable,) hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood-gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor Whisky, vilely compounded with injurious drugs and christened Tonics, [illegible] and Bitters

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters, which instead of curing only aggravate disease, and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair

Hoofland's German Bitters!

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public; and their reputation and sale are not rivalled by any similar preparation

The proprietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent

CLERGYMEN,
LAWYERS,
PHYSICIANS,
and
CITIZENS,

Testifying of their own personal knowledge, to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters,

Do you want something to strengthen you?
Do you want a good appetite?
Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?

If so, use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

From Rev J Newton Brown, D D, Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters prepared by Dr C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture I am indebted to my friend Robert [illegible] Esq, for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them when suffering from great and long continued debility The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them.

J NEWTON BROWN

PHILADELPHIA, June 23, 1861

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whiskey or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused, and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result of it is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt Get One Bottle of Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whiskey, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine-tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters:"

PHILADELPHIA, August 23, 1862.

Messrs Jones & Evans—Well gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R B Ayres Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 25th of June Since that time I have been about as low as one could be and still retain a spark of vitality For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbrun of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded and I am now, thank God for it getting better Though I have taken but two bottles I have gained ten pounds and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian from the vicinity of Front Royal To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours, ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade Mr. Malone, restored to life
